The Church of Sant’Alessandro is dated back to 1564. It was rebuilt at the beginning of the XVII century and restored following the renovation of the farmstead beside, which occurred in the past century. In front of the square begins Buonarroti Road, which leads to Baracca Road where you will find a level crossing; after it, the road reaches the Lambro River, crossed by a small Bridge built during Napoleon’s period, and eventually ends in San Giorgio, suburb of Biassono, where there is another entrance to the Monza Royal Park. This park is more than 600 hectares, which consequently makes it one of the largest in Europe. With the Royal Gardens, the Monza Park is a complex of landscapes, history and architecture, included in a larger area, the Valle del Lambro Park. Since 1922 it hosts the Autodromo Nazionale di Monza, one of the most important Race Tracks in the world, and since 1928 the prestigious Golf Club Milano, 27 holes deployed in an ancient wood. Going left from the park entrance we will get to Mulini San Giorgio, called Cascina Colosio nowadays. Going ahead you will cross the Bertoli bridge and turning right you will reach the Mulini Asciutti building, nowadays head office of CREDA (a non-profit organization), where the old mills room and mechanism can be visited. From here you can go back to Villasanta, exiting by a small door on Don Galli Road and taking first the Area Feste then the Mulini Asciutti cycling lane, you will arrive in Daelli Square, where another cycling lane, from Leonardo Da Vinci Road, will get you back to Sant’Alessandro Square. In the same Daelli Square, this route crosses the green and the light blue ones.
